Naïve and witty at once, Letizia Lucchetti's (b.1999, Ancona) paintings initially attract with their simple and often ingenuous look, and then fascinate with the imaginary and personal narratives the young Italian artist masterfully develops. The exaggerated smiles of her characters, the pastel colours, the anthropomorphic animals and symbolic use of inanimate objects (which reminds of a wild drift of OOO, Object-Oriented Ontology) at a further look makes their friendly and simple countenance rapidly become eerie, mysterious or tragically humorous.
